1990
Lion's Roar

West Boylston Jr-Sr High School

With Thanks To:

Sharon Bouvier for all her help with the yearbook — pulling things together and making our goals a reality.

David Keeney, our class advisor, for his help in planning our Junior Prom, organizing numerous fund-raisers, and winning Play Competitions. We will miss his loyalty, dedication, and crazy sense of humor.

Robert Wills for his many years of service and dedication as a member of the West Boylston Jr.-Sr. High School faculty. The senior class wishes him all the best of luck in his retirement.

Epilogue 127

Finally, The Senior Bench

A Hallowed Spot

It is there by the windows,
The throne of all elders.
Made of wood worn down by time,
Signed by high school dwellers.

It seems like only yesterday
That I discovered this hallowed spot.
As a "rug rat" I arrived
And for a seat I've fought.

Many times I've stolen a moment
To sit down when alone,
Reading all the names and sayings,
Etched elegantly as if in stone.

Initials, nicknames, and dates abound.
Those who went before — left their mark behind.
With carvings such as these below:
"T.C.", "Sue", and "1990's Divine!"

It is a privilege I am told
To sit upon this throne.
As a Senior I shall reign
And make history of my own.

Blue ink, black ink, or the cut of a knife?
Should I print or should I write?
The senior bench is awaiting me,
Much to my delight!

The Senior Play

This year's Senior Play, entitled "The Butler Did It" and written by Tim Kelly, was a success thanks to everyone involved. The play was directed by Steven White with the help of student director Lisa Lenkarski and student producer Stephanie Pasquale. The cast was small but talented. Barbara Shaw was the star of the show with her portrayal of the eccentric Miss Maple, and Robert Monk was hilarious as Chandler Marlow. The rest of the cast consisted of seniors Amy Groden as Haversham, Peter Bryngelson as Peter Flimsey, Joel Martinath and Nicki Larsen as Rick and Laura Carlyle, Michelle Greene as Rita, and Colleen Kelly as Charity Hayes, as well as underclassmen Derek Morrissey as Louie Fan and Chris Teague as Father White. Other seniors, underclasssmen, and drama workshop students helped with backstage work. Thanks to the dedication of the entire cast and crew, the play was enjoyed by all.

You know you are a senior when:

Your name is on the senior bench and in the school parking lot.
It isn't "cool" to ride the bus.
You can intimidate the underclassmen.
You can cut to the beginning of the lunch line.
You are infected with Senioritis.
You're stressed.
You have true spirit for your class.

Junior Prom

The Junior Prom, "Why Can't This Night Go On Forever", was held on May 26, 1989. Family and friends took pictures of the Juniors and their dates in front of the colorful backdrop at the school. Then the couples traveled to White Cliffs to begin the memorable night. Conte Brothers provided the music which kept everyone dancing all night long. At 10:30 the court, consisting of Junior girls Colleen Coleman, Kim Williams, Lisa Lenkarski, Amy Groden, Melissa Valley, Jennifer McCauley, and Nicole Mancini, was announced and Amy Groden was crowned Prom Queen.

Homecoming

Homecoming week this year was the most exciting yet. As usual, the four grades competed against each other in various activities to demonstrate school spirit. Competitions during lunch and after school included a tug-of-war, water-balloon toss, trivia contest, tricycle race, and candy-eating contest. Dress-up themes this year were Inside Out Day, Animal Farm Day, Hippy Day, Opposite Sex Day, and the traditional Blue and White Day. The seniors proved that they had the most spirit by ending the week with the most points.

Students got psyched up to win the football game at the pep rally Friday afternoon. During the pep rally the Homecoming Court was announced by Senior Class President, Pat McEnaney. The court was made up of those girls who showed the most spirit during the week, consisting of Seniors Lisa Lenkarski and Stephanie Pasquale, Juniors Susan Priestly and Molly Mahoney, Sophomores Kellie Richardson and Sara Lindberg, and Freshmen Amy Gaitane and Katie Priestly. Everyone's school spirit paid off that night when the football team won their game against David Proudy, 14-11. The fun, spirit-filled week came to a close at the Homecoming Dance Saturday night when Stephanie Pasquale was crowned Queen.

Sports

Football

The 1990 football season was a success with a record of 6 wins and 3 losses. They also extended their Lion's winning streak to eighteen. The victorious team was led by tri-captains Mike DiPietro, Joe Carlson, and John Boucher. The team was honored by being awarded the most sportsmanlike team in the Southern Worcester County League. Despite losing 19 of last year's senior members, including most of the starting players, it was truly a remarkable season.

Boys' Soccer

The Boys' Soccer team, led by captains Pat McEnaney and Joel Martinath, finished well this season with a record of 8-4-2. With the help of strong juniors such as David Gambaccini, Jay Clark, and David Hubbard, the young team can look forward to a successful season next year.

Girls' Soccer

The Girls' J.V. Soccer team had a good playing season this fall. The team was young, yet the girls played well together and were strong. The offense was led by Cori Howland, Kerri Hubbard, and Christina Bebas. The defense, Peggy Kavanagh, Saara Atchue, and Melissa Richards, assisted goalie Hillary Hanscom. The team's record was 4 wins, 7 losses, and 3 ties.

Cross Country

Because the Cross Country team was small and inexperienced this season, their record was disappointing. Nevertheless the young team, made up of mostly junior high students who were highly dedicated, promises to be strong in the future.

Cheerleading

ıll squad:
ırah Lindberg, Kim Williams, Jen Lucier, Kerri Sheehan, Sarah Pehl, Sue Priestly, Michelle Gardner
ısa Lenkarski, Michelle Greene, Stephanie Pasquale
eth Finn, Molly Mahoney

The fall cheerleaders helped support the football team's winning season. They encouraged the team through biting winds, frigid weather, and pouring rain. These energetic cheerleaders filled the fans with spirit and cheered the Lions on to victory.

The winter cheerleading squad, although smaller and less experienced, was full of pep nonetheless. They applauded the boys basketball team's hard efforts and kept their fans enthusiastic. The squad consisted of senior Michelle Greene, juniors Sue Priestly and Jen Lucier, sophomore Jan Aquafresca, and freshmen Katie Priestly, Erin Moynihan, Amy Sears, and Melissa Powers.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

back: Rich Gaitane, Joel Martinath, Josh Bailey, coach Paul Constantino

Despite a losing season, th Boys' Varsity Basketball tean led by Senior Captain Lanc Watkins, showed determinatio on the court. Coach Paul Cor stantino said he thinks highly c the team because they neve gave up. In addition to Lanc Watkins, who was the team' leading scorer, other senio members included Coli Granger, Chris Allworth, an Joel Martinath. With stron support from non-senior play ers — namely David Desmara and Matt Gaitane — the tean hopes for a better season nex year.

The JV Boys' team was quit small this year and also exper ienced a losing season. Never theless, they played hard an did their best under pressure.

Girls' Varsity Basketball

Although young, the Girls' Varsity Basketball team played well, ending their season with a 4-11 record. The leading scorer for both the team and the league was freshman Merrie Galena, who was closely followed by fellow freshman Amy Gaitane. Senior Captain Colleen Kelly and sophomore Karen Mensing led the team with rebounds while freshman Christina Bebas held together the defense. Coach Dick Priestly is looking forward to a promising future with such a young, talented team.

The girls' JV team had a winning season with 9 wins, 4 losses. Several JV players — Claudia Copeland, Cori Howland, Melissa Richards, and Anne Hannigan — played some varsity games as well.

As the Class of 1990 prepares to leave high school, it is readily apparent that great changes are occuring throughout the world. Few of us ever believed that we would see the Berlin Wall come down in our lifetime; fewer still ever anticipated the sweeping economic changes that now see foreign parties buying American businesses and property at an alarming rate.

You are going into an uncertain world, Class of '90, but also a world at a cross-roads. The future will be yours to shape, but will also impose great challenges upon you. We are confident that you are up to the task, and you leave with our best wishes and warmest thoughts.

Superintendent

Leo J. Sullivan

Your leadership has led to one of the most spirited Homecoming Weeks we have had. That same class leadership has for the first time brought to West Boylston Jr/Sr. High School the Sportsmanship Award from the Central Massachusetts Region of Football Officials. You have ably led an active Student Council, the Yearbook, and a number of other student activities.

Your class will graduate into a very different, and hopefully more peaceful, geopolitical climate. However, rapid changes in Eastern Europe will also bring new challenges. We fully expect your class to make your community and the world a better place to live.

Winter Spirit Week

To blow off steam after a hectic week of midterm exams, the high school participated in a fun-filled week similar to Homecoming. Students showed their spirit by competing against other grades in dress-up days, such as "Backwards Day" and "International Day", and silly events like throwing whip cream at their class president. Last period on Friday a mini-Olympics was held in the gym with more class competitions. In addition, the court of students who had shown the most spirit during the week — one boy and one girl from each grade (9 to 12) — was announced. It consisted of Seniors Robert Monk and Stephanie Pasquale, Juniors Rich Gaitane and Molly Mahoney, Sophomores Paul Papandrea and Kelly Richardson, and Freshmen Tom Shea and Katie Priestly. On Saturday night over one hundred high school students attended the Snow Ball, a semi-formal dinner-dance, where Rob Monk and Steph Pasquale were crowned King and Queen.

CONGRATULATIONS
Class of 1990

The yearbook staff, headed by Editor Dawn Kalloch, Assistant Editor Colleen Kelly, and Business Editor Peggy Kavanagh, successfully completed the 1990 edition of the Lion's Roar. Proud of their work, the staff hopes all will enjoy the book. The committee would also like to thank Mrs. Sharon Bouvier, Mrs. Connie Kalloch, and all those who supported the yearbook staff.

back: advisor Sharon Bouvier, Amy Groden front: Dawn Kalloch, Colleen Kelly, Peggy Kavanagh, Michelle Greene
(also Stephanie Pasquale and Barbara Shaw)

Although we will soon leave West Boylston High School to begin our futures,

the people we have met here,

the friends we have made,

the good times we have had,

the laughs we have shared,

the lessons we have learned,

and the spirit of the lion

will forever remain
in the back of our minds
and deep within our hearts

as memories.
